FOOD PROGRAM

Disclaimer and Waiver

Disclaimer

The food we receive from the Community Kitchen Program, is food which is donated by businesses in and around Calgary (often because the package is damaged, or it is near or slightly past the expiration date). At the donation facility and at our church, food is stored properly until given away.

Most of the food is in excellent condition. However, we do ask that you exercise personal discretion with the items that you receive. There is the occasional item that may be spoiled, and our volunteers are not able to go through all items to examine them. So, PLEASE, use your smarts, and if in doubt, throw it out.

Waiver

I _____ (full name) hereby agree that I will use personal discretion when consuming food received through this program and I release South Calgary Community Church from any liability or negative personal implications incurred by consuming food from this program.
